*Caravans that have been temporarily decommissioned (i.e. that have been registered and deregistered again during the year) are not included, nor are non-registered caravans that are permanently parked at camping sites. Therefore, the CIVD estimates that the actual number of vehicles in use in Germany is more than 900,000 vehicles.

**The register of the Federal Motor Transport Authority does not include motor caravans that are registered and deregistered during the year (so-called "temporary cancellations"). In addition, motor caravans may also be registered as passenger vehicles, trucks or office vehicles, which are also not included in the statistic.
